VisualMill sales up 300%! MecSoft Corporation opens four new International Offices

Irvine, CA.—January 20th, 2003 -- MecSoft Corporation, announces the grand opening of four new International Offices. These offices are located in Germany, Italy, France, and Sweden.

Greg Haywood of MecSoft states: "Our international sales are up over 300% over last year's sales. In order to accommodate this growth and to provide our international customers with the same level of quality support that we provide to our domestic customers we are opening up 4 new international offices. We are also announcing VisualMill's availability in the French and Italian languages with a German version to follow soon. The market is ready for mainstream CAM, and our products are perfectly positioned to be the first quality CAM program for the masses."

Pietro of MecSoft Italy states: "Before VisualMill, CAM product customers faced a dilemma: buy a simple and affordable product (but with some performance and functional shortcomings) or invest a lot to buy powerful (but very often too complex) software? Well, with VisualMill we can offer a top level CAM software that is both easy to use and affordable. And with the availability of an Italian localized version, local support and well structured marketing activities, we really expect VisualMill to be the 2003 bestseller."

MecSoft's philosophy is simple – "Create a great product at a great price and the customers will come". This download is available through your local authorized VisualMill dealer or at the download section of our web-site www.mecsoft.com.
