VectorWorks 11 Partners with VisualMill

Columbia, Maryland (October 26, 2004)—Nemetschek North America announced today its partnership with MecSoft Corporation, to offer VectorWorks 11 users the benefit of VisualMill, a leading-edge CAM solution. VisualMill, with its 2-1/2 axis, advanced 3 axis, 4th axis continuous, and 5th axis indexed milling, as well as hole manufacturing solutions, offers the users the ability to manufacture parts designed in VectorWorks.

"Through this partnership, VectorWorks users will be able to prototype and manufacture their 3D models. Models exported from VectorWorks can be easily brought into VisualMill to generate the CNC cutter paths from the model," stated Biplab Sarkar, Geometry Manager for Nemetschek North America.

"MecSoft Corporation's continuing strategy of partnering with best-of-breed CAD product vendors has created a truly world-class CAD/CAM solution in VectorWorks and VisualMill. This combination of products, with its power and ease of use, offers outstanding performance and unbeatable value. Nemetschek has created an exciting product in VectorWorks and we are looking forward to working with Nemetschek to bring comprehensive and affordable CAD/CAM solutions to the desktop," stated Joe Anand, President, MecSoft Corporation.
