Press Release

MecSoft Announces the Launch of Alibre CAM 3

Irvine, CA, October 22, 2012: MecSoft Corporation, the developer of computer aided manufacturing (CAM) software solutions, has announced the release of Alibre CAM 3.

MecSoft announced last week the transition of Alibre CAM from 3D Systems to MecSoft, and is now releasing the newest version of the software, Alibre CAM 3. The software runs completely inside Alibre Design 2012 CAD software and is packed with hundreds of enhancements and improvements to the product.

"Alibre CAM 3 is the first release of Alibre CAM since the product has transitioned from 3D Systems, so we're extremely excited to offer it to customers for the first time from MecSoft," stated Anita Anand, VP of Sales at MecSoft Corporation. "We believe that our users will be very gratified with not only the various product improvements and also to the overall infrastructure that we have put in place to support this product. We look forward to a rapid adoption of this upgrade in the customer base."

Information on Alibre CAM 3, including a full features list, and a free demo is available on the Alibre CAM website <http://www.alibrecam.com>.
